Corpus Christi College is the sixth oldest college in the University of Cambridge. Founded in 1352 by the Guilds of Corpus Christi and the Blessed Virgin Mary, it bears the distinction of being the only College in Oxford or Cambridge founded by their citizens. The College has a 650-year commitment to teaching and research, carried out on the site of its original foundation in the heart of mediaeval Cambridge. It provides an academic and residential environment for approximately 60 Fellows and 550 students (300 undergraduates and 250 post-graduates), and currently employs approximately 120 staff. The main site is located in central Cambridge. Other accommodation is provided in five main satellites, including the extensive complex at Leckhampton in Grange Road, which accommodates students and Research and Visiting Fellows. The College’s Parker Library houses a collection of manuscripts of world-historical significance. The Library is named after a former Master, Archbishop Matthew Parker.

The Information Services and Technology (IS&T) Department is a service-oriented department responsible for the provision of all IT services, both administrative and academic, within the College. IS&T focuses on delivering value through the quality and availability of services. A customer-facing service desk offers support to Fellows, students, staff and guests of the College.
